

THIS IS NOT A STANDARD
PARKING TICKET!

It's worse.

This ticket was not assigned by some overeager, unforgiving, quota-filling parking cop. While the parking patrol is off charging people 30 bucks because they were ten seconds late moving their car for a street sweeper which didn't even show up, far worse abuses of the common parking good are going unpunished...ABUSES LIKE YOURS!

What you did may or may not have been illegal, but it was definitely inconsiderate and it made our LA Parking Hell just a bit more hellish for all of us. This citation was issued by a fellow Angeleno who only wants to live in a city free from arrogance and entitlement. It bears no fine or legal obligation. Its only purpose is to let you know that:

- You are not parked in a legitimate parking space.
- You are parked in a space marked "compact" but you do not drive a compact car.
- You are parked over the line or are taking up more than one space.
- You are blocking another vehicle.
- You are parked so close to another vehicle as to make it difficult or impossible for the owner to access his or her car.
- You are parallel parked in a manner that limits the amount of parking available for other cars.
- This lot is for tenants only. You are not a tenant.

Parking in LA sucks. To keep us all sane, it's important that everyone's parking choices be guided by consideration and good judgment. Instead, you appear to have been guided by arrogance and entitlement. The LAPD may turn a blind eye to your behavior, but citizens like us refuse to do so anymore! It's a crowded city, and we all have to park here.

IN THE FUTURE, PLEASE BE MORE CONSIDERATE.
